

WE NOMINATE

The Friends of the Joint Free Public Library of Princeton—some 300 strong—who on the threshold of their second year as a corporate enterprise are rendering noteworthy service to the Princeton Community by focussing public attention on the needs, services and aspirations of the Public Library. Above all else, and this was the theme of the Friends' first Annual Meeting a week ago at the Institute for Advanced Study, this non-profit, self-sustaining organization is dedicated to the objective that within the next several years Princeton Borough and Township must have a modern library building, a structure capable of serving a mushrooming area in which education and research are the basic industries.

Growing out of a Council of Community Services Workshop in the spring of 1961, and working closely with the Library's Board of Trustees, The Friends gained momentum within the space of months. Early this past summer they could point with understandable pride to upwards of 250 members, to a series of highly informative library publications, and to sponsorship of a library film service which over the next 11 months will make available to local schools, clubs and individuals approximately 160 different films.

"The message" and facts The Friends are circulating with such energy and enthusiasm date well back into Princeton Past. In 1910, when the Library first moved into historic Bainbridge House and started paying the University the $1 annual rental that has remained unchanged for the past 52 years, the building "was delightfully adequate for a population numbering little more than 5,000." However, even by the early 1920's, the Minutes of Library Board meetings were punctuated with hopeful references to "our building problem." In 1923, following the formation of the long-forgotten Public Library Aid Association, the Librarian publicly declared: "We have outgrown our present quarters and must have a modern building."

At their gathering in the Institute Lounge The Friends, seeking to fill their self-described role as a "communication device, or agency," unveiled one of their major undertakings in the public information field, a cinematic history of Princeton accentuating by pictorial contrasts and understatements "Why Princeton Needs A Library." This skillfully done "film with a purpose," which will be circulated without charge to any interested groups, represents long months of collaboration on the part of Friends, On Film Inc., the Hagens Recording Studio and both institutional and individual collectors of Princetoniana, and constitutes an admirable "Princeton First."

One striking hallmark of The Friends, as they hammer home the points that the Princeton Area's population has quadrupled since the opening of the present library and that its book circulation has catapulted from 7,000 to more than 200,000, is the broad-gauged quality of its community-wide membership. For instance, each of the 16 members of its Executive Council, that is evenly divided between the sexes, is identified with at least one activity or organization which is acutely aware of why a new library is "vital to the cultural, educational and recreational life of a community" often referred to as "The Athens of America."

For exploring ways in which the Library might be able to make even more positive contributions to Princeton's well-being; for communicating to others, including public officials, the sense of urgency felt in "a town" that is steadily dropping behind equivalent municipalities in providing essential library services; for devoting, time, thought and funds to matters of abiding concern to all Princetonians; the Friends of the Library are

PROGRESS REPORT
On Consolidation Study.
Three residents of the Borough and three of the Township have been appointed by the mayor: of the two municipalities to serve on the Joint Committee on Municipal Operations, Township Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman termed it the "most augmentation" of a joint study of the feasibility of consolidation being undertaken by the Borough and Township. Named by Mayor Henry S. Patterson of the Borough are John B. Redding, Jr., 31 Linden Lane, former Township Council member and a long-time participant in a plumbing and heating business in Princeton; Orren Jack Turner, Jr., 39 Hamilton Avenue, photographer and a former Republican candidate for mayor; and Gregg Dougherty, 93 Library Place, Professor Emeritus of Chemistry at the University.

Named by Mayor Fairman are James A. Perkins, 236 Edgerstoune Road, vice-president of the Carnegie Corporation and former vice-president of Swarthmore College; Dr. William M. Beane, 168 Harrison Street, lawyer and Professor of Politics at the University, who has worked extensively with the State Legislature on various problems; and Stanley C. Smoyer, 86 Olden Lane, former Township Committee member and a member of the legal staff of Johnson & Johnson in New Brunswick.

AND "BOO!" TO YOU, TOO! A few contestants in the UNICEF Halloween Parade held a private dress rehearsal this week to see who could scare whom the most. Left to right—well, it's a little hard to tell, exactly. It's probably Elise Keigler, then somebody who identifies himself as Billy Pohl, Next comes—is it Margaret Griffin? And then a skeleton from the family closet named Peter Kraehenbuehl.

These six will be joined by three members of the Borough governing body—Mayor Patterson, Councilmen Albert Austen and Elwood P. Godfrey—and by three Township Committee members—Mayor Fairman, Maurice F. Healy, Jr. and William L. Wilson. For the present, the two mayors will serve as co-chairmen of the Joint Committee with each presiding over the meetings on alternate months.

Listing the Ground Rules. As a first step, both municipal governments will draft resolutions, defining the mission of the newly-formed committee. That mission, according to Mayor Fairman, will be to "initiate, coordinate, and integrate" studies by both municipalities on a four-point basis: 1) analysis of the current services provided in the Borough and Township, including education; 2) projection of needs of the future; 3) conclusions as to the practicability of a joint function of a particular service, short of political integration; and 4) conclusions as to a unification of services including political integration.

Mayor Fairman felt that the first problem to which the Joint Committee would address its attentions would be one of internal organization. It would have to pin down the exact number of sub-committees and staff it deems necessary. If not empowered to spend money without municipal approval, the committee would have to determine what monies it would need and request that the sum be included in the next municipal budget.

No date has been set for the first meeting of the 12-man committee. Mayor Fairman reported that considering the problem of adjusting schedules, it would be at least ten days to two weeks before they would be able to hold their first meeting. The meetings will be closed to the public.

The initial aim of the committee will be to consider what services can be integrated or consolidated short of political integration. If it is considered advantageous to consolidate a particular service, the next step will be to evaluate the advantages of unifying the service politically as well.

IT'S HALLOWEEN!

Parade To Be Held. At the witching hour of half past six next Wednesday, the witching day of Halloween, witches and goblins, skeletons and space men will assemble at the Witherspoon Street parking lot to line up in parade formation for a grand march up Witherspoon and down Nassau to the Nassau Street School.

Any child can enter, with or without costume, but a prize will be given for the most original outfit. To help the marchers keep time, there will be a contingent from the Princeton University Band, and to provide moral support to young marchers who might feel shy about the open spaces of Nassau Street, there will be the Imperial Debs, a girls' drill team, and members of the Hi-Y Club. And at the head of the parade will be a real clown, who will probably turn out to be J. P. Meyer, Bamberger's ubiquitous manager.

At the end of the line of march at Nassau Street School, there will be a party, and the distribution of costume awards. Princeton merchants have donated the prizes. The "Dance a Kaye" movie, "Assignment Children," will be shown.

Cost Blatterberger is chairman of the parade, assisted by John Beidler, Perry Benson, Sallie Griffin, Kenneth Gilmartin and Elaine Pohl. Costume judges will be Messrs Beidler and Benson and Alan Bernhardt and Susan Rugg.

If it should rain, there will be no parade, but no party will be held anyway, starting at 7:30 p.m. at the school.

New street lights, three times brighter than those currently in use, will be installed by Public Service for the Township on Leigh, Birch, John and Mountain. . . . 53 new models have been ordered and only 27 will be removed.

Open House at KE1991

The Princeton Borough Police Department, KE1991 on the police radio frequently, will hold an open house in the Borough Hall auditorium this Thursday and Friday from 9 to 5 and on Thursday evening from 7 to 9.

On display will be equipment carried in a police patrol car, equipment used by the detective bureau, a police arsenal, special equipment including a radar unit, resuscitator, etc., and a Juvenile and Safety Bureau display. Police officers will be present to answer questions and conduct tours. Any organization planning to attend as a group is requested to call the department.

Throughout the year, the department is visited by numerous classes from the Borough Schools. Police Chief Peter J. McCrohan felt that the children, police buffs and the public would get more out of a trip to the department if everything were on display at once.

Daylight saving ends Sunday at 2 a.m. and clocks will be turned back an hour. . . . one wonders how far they will be turned back if the present international crisis reaches its potential climax.

Person To Person

The other day, a sociologist was talking about disciplining children, and the importance of striking a happy balance in.

Cory S. Kammer handling children. Obviously it is a most important subject to parents, and like so many other things, we've got to find the happy medium if we are going to do it right. Too much or too severe discipline is definitely bad, but too little or none at all is even worse from the sociologist's point of view. When parents go soft hearted in handling kids, the sociologist says they do them irreparable harm, not just more harm than good. The dictionary gives this definition of discipline: "Training which corrects moods, strengthens, or perfects," and we suppose none of us would want children to go without such proper training, but alas, quite a bit of severity must be used to make such training effective. It is just young human nature not to understand this, and therefore to resist to the fullest. To clinch this point, the sociologist says, he has never heard of an adult thanking his parents for a lack of discipline in his youth, but many a happy person thanks his parents for starting him off right with a well disciplined childhood. In business, disciplined training carries over in many benefits to customers, and such it is a prime goal that you get maximum satisfaction. AT WOODROW WILSON'S INAUGURAL: Princeton University's 13th president was installed in office 60 years ago — on October 25, 1902 — and in commemoration of the event, President Wilson's daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Wilson McAdoo, will be in Princeton this Thursday to present to the University the collection of letters written to each other by her father and mother. Published under the title, "The Priceless Gift," the collection includes 1,460 love letters, each one "an outpouring of affection which continues undiminished from the first missive to the last," according to Arthur S. Link, editor of the projected Wilson papers. In this scene, the academic procession for Wilson's inauguration ceremonies is shown entering the rear of Alexander Hall. Reunion Hall is on the right, partially hidden by trees.

HAND IN HAND

Or Very Nearly. The Borough Board of Education keeps touching base with the Township as it plans for the Borough's new $1,850,000 elementary school. The building, to be located on Walnut Lane opposite the high school playing fields, will be on Township land.

Graham Rohrer, president of the Borough school board, reported at Monday's meeting that last week's preliminary session with Township Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman and Borough Planning Board Chairman Gerald Broese will be followed by the Borough's informal appearance before the Township Planning Board on November 7. At a closed session, legal aspects of the situation will be discussed.

Mr. Rohrer also stated that he had reviewed school plans with Richard Pearson, Township school board head. "So the way is open and communication lines are clear," The Borough Building Planning Committee, headed by Mrs. Bernice Miller, plans to meet with the Township's Committee for Future Planning, headed by Mrs. Jess Epstein.

Long Weekend

All Princeton schools will be closed on Thursday and Friday, November 7 and 8, to enable faculty members to attend the N.J. EA Teachers Convention in Atlantic City. The action was taken by the Borough Board of Education when faced by the prospect of finding 25, a and possibly more, substitute teachers.

Mrs. Miller told the Board that her committee has evolved a three-phase program of study. The group plans to inventory present school facilities, to review the elementary school population, and to project a 10-year forecast of facilities and school population covering kindergarten through eighth grade.

"We are working," she said, "toward a building adaptable to any kind of community setup."

Early Needs. Mr. Rohrer asked the board to consider architects' applications at an early date. He said that the consensus of the advice he had received is that an architect's assistance is needed during the preliminary planning stage, and that the architect gained insight into the problems which his building must meet.

Letters have been sent in all Princeton architectural firms, to the firm which designed the high school and to others who have inquired.

"We should also appoint a real estate agent to handle details of the two properties," Mr. Rohrer said. Sale of the land and property at the Nassau Street and Witherspoon Street schools will net about $800,000, the board estimates. Although the public sale will call for sealed bids, the agent is needed to publicize the sale.

Miscellany. C. Bergen Groendyke, who serves as auditor for both the Borough and the Board of Education, was re-appointed for the current year at a fee of $2,200, upped from $1,900. Dr. Stroup commended his "fine service over and beyond the time spent each year examining our books."

West Windsor Township Board of Education approved the five-year contract offered by the Borough, extending through 1968-70.

At a joint press conference scheduled for 9:30 a.m. this Saturday, Mr. Pearson of the Township, and Dr. Jeremiah Finch, Borough School Board, will issue a statement concerning a new salary scale for teachers. The proposed scale was presented to the Township school board last Thursday.

was asked to keep the road

traffic counts.

Depending on these counts,
the Township may petition
the county to leave the traffic signal at Washington and College and install a new light at Faculty Road, or move the present light south to Faculty.

When construction begins on University buildings in six weeks, College will be closed, probably permanently, officials said. They were asked to notify the community ahead of time to avoid traffic jams.

At Township Committee
Monday night, John Hite, 601
Prospect, urged Township protests to the University and the Borough Planning Board. He suggested that Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman, who is also the University's director of athletics, speak to University officials about the problem, and Mayor Fairman said he would consider the suggestion.

Mayor Fairman said the Borough had agreed on a joint application for "Green Acres" funds for the Harrop tract. If there is no agreement in 12 months after Township decisions to improve the land, the Township can buy out the Borough's interest.

Several Traffic Safety Committee recommendations were considered. Township Committee agreed to ban parking on the west side of John Street,
the east side of Moore Street;

both sides of Edgerstone

the end of Hun School to the west side of Riverside from held November 5 on Committee's proposal to pay $1,000

ship Hall, the study to be made in anticipation of the joint study of consolidation.

ACCIDENT IS FATAL
Furch Dies of Injuries, Joseph A. Furch, 60, of Cherry valley Road, died Tuesday in Princeton Hospital as a result of injuries suffered when he lost control of his car last week on Carter Road.

Mr. Furch's neck was broken when his car struck a telephone pole and a tree, then returning to the road. The accident occurred shortly after 10 p.m. Thursday, while he was driving home from Hopewell.

State Trooper Thomas Wolfe investigated, reporting details of the accident were difficult to obtain because Mr. Furch was alone in his car. He was in critical condition when brought to Princeton Hospital.
Mr. Furch, was business agent of Local 380, Plumbers and Steam Fitters Union A lifelong Princeton resident, he was a member of Meeker Engine Co.
No. 3, a former chief of Department, and he belonged to the Rod and Gun Club and the Squatters' Club.

He is survived by his wife,
Mary, four sons, Frank J. of Princeton, Joseph of 22 Forest Avenue, Lawrence, Township, Richard of Hopewell; and David of Monmouth Junction;
two daughters, Mrs. Barbara Kuntz of Mercerville and Mrs.
Suzanne Mezzi of Hopewell; a brother, Nondor, of Trenton;
two sisters, Mrs. Helen Williams of New York and Mrs.
Mary Bush of California; and 15 grandchildren.

Requiem mass will be celebrated Friday at 9:30 a.m. at St. Paul's Church, with burial in the parish cemetery. Ar-

tion of the Kimble Funeral Home.

SEEK UNICEF FUNDS

For World Youth, Boys and girls of Princeton will help boys and girls throughout the world by asking this Saturday night for money to give to UNICEF.

The door-to-door drive, held under the sponsorship of the Princeton Church Youth Council and Mrs. Raymond F. Male, will begin at the First Presbyterian Church at 7 p.m.

Here the boys and girls will form into groups, pick up milk cartons to hold the contributions and tags for identification, and will choose the areas
they would like to cover.

They are driving toward a goal of $1,962. This would provide, according to UNICEF figures, enough penicillin to cure 39,240 cases of yaws, supply 981,000 glasses of milk or equip 30 maternal and child health centers.

Time to Ponder

That hour I lost
So long ago
When it comes back,
Will it bring snow?
— E. Z. SLEDDIN

The answer, of course, is
"yes—eventually." The end of Daylight time on Sunday brings the hour back, and snow there'll be ere it is lost again.

But for the present, Indian Summer lingers . . . a bit chillier than last week,
but sunny and pleasant,
nonetheless. Showers a possibility late Friday; otherwise, fine fall weather ahead.

Following the drive, UNICEF will have a dance in the Valley Road School gym, and the final sum collected will be announced at the time. UNICEF solicitors will be admitted free to the dance; all others may come for 50 cents.

Susan Rugl is chairman of a dance committee consisting of Patricia Baker, Pamela and Peggy Hasenzahl and Belle Vreeland.

VAN GOGH IS FEATURE
Of Festival of the Arts. A number of outstanding paintings, including an exceptionally fine Van Gogh oil, will be on public display November 3-6 at the Festival of the Arts to be held at Miss Fine's School. The program, the third to be presented in recent years, will benefit the May Margaret Fine Endowment Fund.

The Loan Show, one of three sections of the Festival program, should be the primary attraction, according to Mrs.

News Of The THEATRES

"FANTASTICKS" OPENS
In McCartor. The fall drama season has not so much arrived as exploded upon the Princeton scene with the opening in McCartor Theatre of the resident professional company's initial production, the off-Broadway musical "The Fantasticks." It will be given again this Friday and Saturday at 8:30 and this Saturday at matinee time. Tickets are available at the box-office.

A fresh, spandy show to begin with, "The Fantasticks" has been given a McCartor production which has pace, color, imagination and verve. It's a nifty start for the season.

We have here a Boy and a Girl, forced to secret meetings and whispered kisses because their fathers have built a wall along the property line to keep them apart. Before the plot is very old, however, we learn that the fathers want very much to have the Boy marry the Girl and have built the wall out of a canny knowledge of offspring psychology. If you want a child to do anything, just tell him he can't do it.

We were about to go on with the plot, but that's really all there is, except for misunderstandings and a tear or two. To keep things going, there is a perfectly splendid abduction involving a couple of broken-down old actors, some fancy montage about the wickedness of the father and a great deal of engaging, tilting music.

"Fantasticks" is an original and thoroughly beguiling musical show, with something new popping up out of the trunk every minute. But even more important, in this McCartor production, is the advantage of a first-rate, well-cast and a director who knows how to keep wheels rolling.

The two fathers are played by Charles Goff, who did the role in the New York off-Broadway company for seven months, and Gaylan Evans, who played his role in Boston, and both of these gentlemen are exemplary, particularly when they comment on the negative reactions of offspring with song and slightly gourd-tinned lingo. (Mr. Evans has an exceptionally mobile face, and rolls about delightfully from cheek to cheek.)

Jon Cypher as El Gallo, a synthetic bandit who doubles as a narrator, provides the show's comic peak when, at the climax of a wildly preposterous about-face, he "dies" in a splendidly prolonged and cliché-ridden death scene.

which is a little gem of comic acting. Also within this abduction scene is Thomas Barbour's "Old Actor," dressed memorably by designer William Ronetti in lattered doublet and a tirde pair of ankle-bone tennis shoes.

Singing voices come across very well in this production, although the opening night accompaniment of harp, piano, percussion and bass was somewhat overpowering. Betty McNamara as The Girl has a high, clear sturdy voice that is a good match for Gino Conforti's baritone Boy. He's another one who has played his part before. Jon Cypher's baritone is resonant and clear. Milton Lyon has directed and coordinated these players into an offering which is better in many ways than the original off-Broadway version. That one often went too fast for its own good, but Mr. Lyon knows that pace doesn't necessarily mean headlong speed every minute, and he changed his mood to a lower key without drag.

The familiar Shakespearean stage used in previous seasons has been buoyed up for this fantasy by William Robert's gay, shimmering banners and festoons of bright streamers that ripple down at appropriate moments.

With only three performances remaining, Princeton theatre-goers haven't much time to waste. This delight—

Tryouts!

Chairmen of departments, cheer-leaders, ingenues and grande dames are urged to try out for parts in "The Male Animal," the Thurber-Nugent comedy which will open the season for Princeton Community Players.

Tryouts will be held in Murray Theatre (near the Chapel on Campus) this Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. On Sunday and Tuesday, tryouts will be held at 8:30 p.m. and on Monday, at 10 p.m. There are seven male roles and five female roles to fill in this satire of college community life.

Everyone within commuting distance of Princeton is invited to try "The Male Animal" will be directed by Edward Earle, director of the Trenton Studio of the Performing Arts, and choreographer for the Lambertville Music Circus. The play is scheduled for presentation in early December.

DOUBLE BILL TO OPEN

"Heritage" Will Begin. With a double offering that pairs a laughing tragedy with a mocking satire, McCarter Theatre will launch its "Mediterranean Heritage" drama series next Thursday. For this opening night production, there will be a 30 curtain. Next Friday and Saturday nights, curtain will be at 8:30.

There is a Greek custom to present a satire after the performance of a tragedy, and McCarter is following this pattern by offering "The American" of Sophocles and "A Phoenix Too Frequent" by Christopher Fry.

The familiar story of Antigone tells of Creon, governing Thebes since the exile of King Oedipus, and refusing to allow the burial of his nephew, slain as his enemy on the field of battle. Antigone defiantly resolves to bury her brother and the resulting clash between her and Creon brings death and horror as the inevitable and fatal result.

In "A Phoenix Too Frequent," Fry makes fun of the foolish Dynamene who is determined to die for her dead husband. She is persuaded not to do so, and to allow herself to be wooed by a young soldier. Her companion Dolo observes the proceedings with very humor and adds a salty touch of comedy to the tale of love.

Both plays will be directed by Stephen Porter with sets and costumes by William Roberts. Five performances will be given. In addition to those mentioned above, there will be a performance on Friday, November 23, at 8:30 and Sunday, November 11, at 3 p.m.

SHAW PLAY PLANNED

At Miss Fine's School. The dramatic club of Miss Fine's School, with an assist from several Princeton University undergraduates, will present "You Never Can Tell" by George Bernard Shaw on Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The play, which is set in England in 1896, was originally published in the two-volume set, "Plays Pleasant and Unpleasant." A. Narro Wade will direct the four-act presentation. A preview performance is scheduled for Thursday.

The female parts will be taken by Karen Fraser, Joan Knapp, Bonnie Grad, Anne Updike, Dianne Drake and Joanna Hornum. The male cast includes George Blanchard, David Handler, Robin Clements, David Cain, Michael Gillespie and Bart Farr.

Tickets may be obtained from any student in the middle or upper school at Miss Fine's or at the box office.

FILM SERIES PLANNED

For Armchair Travelers. Three films have been booked for the Kiwanis Club's Travel-Adventure series.

Explorer Karl Robinson will appear November 13 with his prize-winning movie "Finland." On December 11, "Indonesia" will be presented and narrated by Phil Walker. The third and final show on January 8, will feature the Jacques Cousteau underwater films of the Red Sea, narrated by his associate, Owen Lee.

"Finland" centers on the challenge of life in this far northern country. Among the highlights are the reindeer round-up by the Laplanders, spectacular ski jumping and distance racing, the creative arts of the Finns and a festival held in the Arctic circle. The Finnish government gave Karl Robinson a special citation for his interpretation of the country.

The programs, designed for families with children, will be shown at 8 p.m. at the McCarter Theatre. Tickets for the series are $5 for adults and $3 for students high school age and under. Mail orders may be sent to Box 461, Princeton, or tickets may be purchased at the McCarter boxoffice and the University Store. Proceeds will benefit the Kiwanis charities and community activities.

PLAYHOUSE

Harold Lloyd's World of Comedy (Today thru Sat.) This compilation of the best of Harold Lloyd's comedy will bring back happy memories to those old enough to remember laughing at the rolling-in-the-asies kind. It will also be favored by the younger generation who have never seen the pure and simple comedy of one of the great comic actors of all time.

Lloyd was a master of the slight gag and of drawing a fine line between laughter and heart-stopping suspense. The sequences have been culled from his great feature pictures of the 1920s and 1930s.

There are bits from "Safety Last!" and "The Freshman," a long section from "Hot Water" in which Lloyd proves how many laughs can be gotten from bringing home an armful of groceries, including a live turkey. The concluding scenes from "Feet First" are the antics for which Lloyd is best remembered — a long, shuddering and yet superbly funny cliff-hanging ordeal on the side of a skyscraper. Commence a gold mine of pure comedy.

The 200 Spartans (Oct. 28-31) is a film extravaganza in the "Spartacus" pattern. Outside in every way, it re-creates the famed battle of Thermopylae Pass, fought in 480 B.C. Starred are Barry Cor, Sir Ralph Richardson, Dianne Baker and a host of others. The battle scenes bring the film its best moments of excitement and color. Comment, ancient heroes.

THE GAROEN

Operation Switch (today thru Tues.) Terry-Thomas ranks among Britain's top laugh-provokers. With his flaming mustache and gap-toothed grin, his style is droll rather than side-splitting.

In a service comedy of World War II, set on Gibraltar, Terry-Thomas is the lieutenant in charge of the colony of Barbary apes. He is aided by Lionel Jeffries as his orderly, who has about as much trouble looking after his officer as he does looking after the apes. Somehow Terry-Thomas finds himself up to his ears in espionage when George Sanders, intelligence officer on the Rock, decides to "leak" false information to the Germans. Comment: an energetic and appealing comedy.

IT'S NEW To Us

FOREIGN TRADE
And Domestic Economy.
Nassau Interiors has decided to have the best of all possible worlds, and has acquired two top-drawer furniture lines, one from Denmark and one from domestic sources.
Worth your attention, both of them.

John Stuart's Danish imports are known to you, of course, from big-city advertising. They are exclusive with Nassau Interiors in this area,
and the store is justifiably proud of them.

The line begins with Count
Bernadotte's design of a side chair, made of solid teak with a squared-off U shape that makes arms and back a continuous frame of wood. The actual back you lean against is an upholstered tilt back, fastened to the frame by two little brass knobs that lend an interesting note of contrast to the smoothness of the teak. $109.

An occasional rocker has arm and rocker in one piece, too, with a stretcher between the back and front supports.
Like the Bernadotte chair, it is covered in a woolen fabric from Denmark, one of a wide selection offered to you in this Stuart collection.

A three-cushion sofa has the same teak frame, and then there's a sleeper sofa with pyramidal bolster along the back and small occasional purchase at the arms.

One of the most memorable pieces in the group is a black leather side chair (and this is leather, not plastic) with curved-over leather arms and four bolsters punctuating back and seat. It's $269. In the same style, but upholstered in fabric, is another arm chair. A third has narrow, tapering teak arms and a fourth has wide, forthright flat wooden arms and flat seat and back pads.

To introduce you to this collection of John Stuart furniture, Nassau Interiors offers a tea cart with a straight little gallery around the top and a full shelf underneath, for $39.
It's 28 by 18 inches.
But the store is convinced that domestic designers can do just as well as Danish ones, and to prove the point, here are founders with a new group of walnut chests, side pieces and tables.

One of the most interesting pieces is a place-mat chest with two rows of three drawers each, the drawers shallow and narrow, beginning after the long, tapering legs. Drawer fronts are zebrawood, but the chest is walnut, and so is the full shelf that lies below
the drawers. It's 45 by 16 inches by 27 high.

On the same delicate scale
there is a console desk ($79)
in walnut with a single center drawer and slim, trestle-style legs. (You know: one long, thin wooden support that branches into two "feet" when it reaches the floor.)

These small pieces are not the whole story, however.
Founders has made an oiled walnut dining table, oval in shape, that is 72 inches long in its natural state, but is ready to extend to 112 inches
if you wish. It's 48 in diameter, for $179.

The chairs to go with this table have full cane backs
all the way down to the seat cushion, which is an inset square of foam covered with a woolen "wool" fabric.

Chests from Founders are walnut, too, with ebony pulls that are very small knobs. The ebony is repeated in a narrow

Half A Loaf?

Starting from the idea that many a full-time woman is only a part-time cook, some designer with a lot of sauce and imagination has turned out a half apron apparel. It's cut in half down the middle, from bib to hem,
and held together by wooden buttons possibly carved out of mixing spoons.

You'll find the apron at The Money Tree on Alexander Street, where it is made by a group of painters
and tea-towels to match.
All are from Mexico, all made of good quality Mexican cotton, all dyed in the most exuberant shades of hot orange, lemon, turquoise, lime and sea lake.
Emblazoned upon each square pot-holder and each oblong tea-towel is a rooster, or a semitropical sun or a fish, just to make your day brighter.

The pot-holders and the towels, incidentally, quietly assert what you have known all along: that you are really a full-time cook, in spite of that half-apron. These are full-scale towels, full-scale holders.

black band around the tiers
of drawers, down the dividing line between them on double chests, and across the top just above the drawer line. We saw a double chest for $162 and a tall six-drawer chest for $144.

If you need more than the single drawer in the console desk, there is a 62-inch desk with a deep drawer and three standard ones, and that middle drawer for pencil stubs. It has a shallow, curving gallery around the edge and costs $169.

MUSIC In Princeton

NEW YORKERS TO PLAY

With Princeton Symphony.
Members of the New York Philharmonic Windward Quintet will play with the Princeton Symphony Orchestra in the opening concert of the orchestra's 12th season Monday at 8:30 in McCarter Theatre.

The guest musicians will perform Mozart's Sinfonia oboe, horn, clarinet and bassoon. Members of the group are Harold Gonsky, oboist and director of the quintet; Stanley Drucker, clarinetist; Manuel Ziegler, bassoonist; and Joseph Smith, French horn.

The program will begin with the Mozart and will continue with Stravinsky's Concerto in D for strings, composed in 1946. The Concerto has been composed with two rhythmic outside movements and a melodic second movement.

Following the intermission, soprano Bethany Beardslee will sing Beethoven's "Wedding Cantata," and the Cavatina from Rossini's "Barber of Seville." Nicholas Harsanyi, the orchestra's director, will conduct. Tickets for the event are available at the University Store and will be on sale in the McCarter box office the evening of the concert.

BARITONE TO SING

In New Hope Rectal, A program of American songs will be offered this Sunday at 3 by John Langstaff, baritone, when he appears in a recital at the Centre Bridge Inn, three miles above New Hope. He will appear under the auspices of the New Hope Music Series.

His program will include a group of early American songs arranged by Aaron Copland, BETHANY BEARDSLEE, the gifted young soprano, who lives in Princeton, will appear as soloist Monday with the Princeton Symphony Orchestra.

several songs by Charles Ives and compositions by Ernst Bacon, Samuel Barber and John Edmunds, concluding with traditional American ballads and folk songs.

In a critical comment on Mr. Langstaff the London "Times" said that he "has the singer's chief interpretive requirement, in ability to seize on the character of a song in the first eight bars and then to create the whole atmosphere, emotion or picture, as the case may be."

Mr. Langstaff received a special award in 1959 from the National Federation of Music Clubs for his presentations of American music abroad, and he has appeared as soloist on the recital stage, with major orchestras and in various oratorio and opera performances. He has also been heard on radio and television.

Tickets for the recital are $2 ($1 for students) and may be purchased at the door.

things to cut out and put together. They come in three sizes: grandes constructions, petites, moyennes et petites, the quantitative adjective referring to size of sheet and price 125 cents, 50 cents and the like.

For example, Here is Le Chateau de l'Ogre, ready to cut out and fabricate, and a fearsome Tableau Anime, which seems to involve a rabbit whose head has just been cut off by the cook. You can assemble a voiture, or a locomotive et tender, or Jeanne d'Arc complete with flames.

On the bound side Pellerin has, for an awesome $9.95, a real collector's item consisting of bound sheets from what must have been a 19th century comic, with the French translated into English. "Toutes Sortes de Bêtes a Colorer" provides just what it says: lots of animals to color. If you have French crayons. And there is a French song book consisting, like the "comic," of single song sheets which have been bound together.

All of these have been printed in the bright reds and blues and the sharp line drawings of the old story sheets, on strong, modern paper that looks ivory with age. There won't be a one left by Christmas.

For a child's room or a den that's on the bright side, Money Tree is showing some more Pellerin findings. These are rouvages with moustaches or galloping Cavalrie Francaise, printed in red and blue on 56-inch long strips that show the full cavalcade regiment, or in single four-foot-tall sheets that display a soldier about the size of a live three-year-

THE PRINCE
Oklahoma! (Wed. thru Sat.) one of the most exuberant and refreshing musicals to move from Broadway to the screen, first seen here in 1956. The Rodgers and Hammerstein songs are still lovely; the gaiety of the dancing is undimmed. Gordon MacCrac plays Curley; Gloria Graham is Ado Annie ("I Can't Say No") and Shirley Jones portrays Laurie. The unimportant plot revolves around ranchers, cattlemen and statehood. C o m m e n t: "The corn is as high as an elephant's eye" — but it's wonderful corn.

Sweet Bird of Youth (Oct. 28-30) includes no less than four of the original stage performers of this angry, sordid, bitter play by Tennessee Williams. Paul Newman throws into his portrayal of the young man in search of the easy "big chance" all the intensity which made his stage appearance so noteworthy. Geraldine Page matches him in brilliance in her role as the washed-out Hollywood star.

Also from the Broadway show are Rip Torn, as the vicious son of the state's political boss, and Madeleine Sherwood, as the abused mistress of the boss. Ed Begley, as Boss Finley, turns in a powerful characterization of an unscrupulous man.

The basic thread of the plot revolves about Miss Page and her affair with Newman. The latter is torn between his love for Boss Finley's daughter, played by Shirley Knight, and the frightened bewildered star, who has sought refuge in her bitter reality in the bottle and the dope-laden cigarette "not the regular kind, that only give you cancer." C o m m e n t: strong and unrelenting drama.

old. (We like "His Highness the Prince Imperial," solemnly dressed up for parade.)

That's not all at Money Tree these days. There is a Portuguese cowbell whose size and hell says a good deal for the Portuguese cow, and a Portuguese fisherman's sweater, knit in stockingette with cross-stitched crowns, roosters and trees.

Upstairs at Money Tree, as you probably know by now, is a ballerina barre with Capezio's helms leotards, cut with round or V or boat necks, with front zipper or plain, and with a French-cut leg. (That means up high, but not TOO high.)

The advantage of this ballerina barre is that you can try everything on right here, without running home to see whether it doesn't fit. There are slippers by Ben and Sally for all ages, in classic black, and a frisky circular wrap skirt that is particularly tactical to buy for a young dancer who may still have a fat tummy, or for a mother in an exercise class who is trying to get rid of one and wants camouflage until.

be mounted in three rooms furnished with period furniture, also on loan from the collections of Princeton residents. In addition to the Van Gogh, there will be paintings by Renoir, Monet, Sisley, Pissarro, Vuillard and Derain. Mrs. Ronald Ely is the loan chairman.

The French Room will be a Louis XV sitting room, according to the room, Mrs. C. Reinhold Noyes. It will contain a fine selection of period furniture loaned to the Festival from the collections of Mrs. R. Stuyvesant Pierrepont, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald B. Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. Roland L. Hogue, Mr. and Mrs. David L. Frothingham, Mrs. Rensselaer Lee, Mrs. Walter E. Edge, Mrs. Raymond Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Emery, Mr. and Mrs. John O'Hara and Mrs. Noyes.

Mrs. Richard V. Lindabury, chairman of the English Room, announced that it will contain fine examples of English table furniture, including a breakfast desk, Chippendale chairs and settee, a lowboy, wing chairs and fine china. Selections come from the collections of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas MacNeil, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Alsop, Mr. Mills, George Babson and Mr. and Mrs. Lindabury. Paintings in this room will include works by Constable, Reynolds and Raeburn.

The American Room, according to the room chairman, will depict a country style room, typical of the 18th century. The UNUSUAL OBELISK: Mrs. Augustus K. Mills, chairman of Arts Festival, will unveil obelisk which will be on display.

Antiques representative of the period—all authentic—will include a dining table, pewter dresser and sconces and fine porcelain items.

For the historically-minded, the Festival will offer the Historic Show. This will contain items pertaining to the Princeton of 1783 when it was, for five months, the nation's capital and host to the Continental Congress. Items on display will include three outstanding paintings from the University collection, a life-mask painting of George Washington, a watercolor of Prospect, then the farm of George Morgan, and various documents pertaining to the Congressional stay in Princeton.

IT'S CANDIDATES NIGHT
Annual Event Monday. All eight candidates for Princeton office will be the star performers Monday at the candidates meeting sponsored each year by the League of Women Voters.

It will be held at 8:15 p.m. at the Community Park School on Witherspoon Street and will be moderated by Mrs. Elmer Alpert. Mrs. Robert D. Allen will serve as timekeeper.

What measures do you think should be taken to provide a proper balance between economic development, the preservation of Princeton's natural beauties and the need for adequate revenue? will be the question put to the eight candidates. After they have replied, questions will be accepted from the floor.

Borough Council candidates who will appear are William H. Walker, II, and Alfred E. Sorenson, Republican incumbents, and Shaw Livermore, Jr., and James E. Andrews, Democrats.

Township Committee candidates who will appear are John Hite and James Foley, Democrats, and John O. Green and Carl Schafer, Jr., Republicans. None of the four is an incumbent.

Mrs. Sidney Liebes, Jr., is in charge of planning for the League's election meetings and Mrs. Willard Machle is the chairman of Voters Service activities for the League. Hostesses for the Monday night meeting will be Mrs. Victor Bruce, Mrs. Cino Treves and Mrs. H. C. Curtiss, Jr.

ROOM FOR ONE MORE?

Not Township School Board members went to Thursday night's meeting in a new school which still is not quite finished, and talked about . . . the construction of still more school rooms.

The pressure is at Riverside and Littlebrook. Right now there are 68 boys and girls in Community Park kindergarten from the Riverside area, and no room for them next year at Riverside when they are ready for first grade. Littlebrook is the only Township school without an adequate library.

The Committee on Future Planning of the school board will meet to see what can be done by next fall. The Board discussed the possibility of adding new rooms to Riverside and Littlebrook, and Mrs. Jess Epstein, Board member, reminded her colleagues that plans for the Riverside and Johnson Park schools had called for expansion in '63.

Current count: 1,997 boys and girls as of September 30. Superintendent John F. McKenna had estimated 2,000.

Harmony: A. Robert R. Trudel said that "the spirit was unusually good" at the last meeting of the high school advisory committee, a meeting held to discuss math courses.

He reported that high school officials had apparently expected sending district representatives to come to the meeting
"looking for trouble," and were pleasantly surprised to find that they had not.

Commenting on the Board's approval of the new joint salary schedule for teachers, Dr.
McKenna said it would mean a 92 percent increase in the salary budget for the first year, about 6 1/2 percent for the second year. Dr. McKenna said, and provides raises at the upper end on the basis of recommendations, not merely years of service.

Township Attorney G.D. Griffin
Griffin will be asked to examine the state law to find the source for the custom of reciting the Lord's Prayer in class each day. Dr. McKenna and Edward Pearson, Board chairman, said they interpreted the law to mean that readings from the Old Testament were mandatory and recitation of the Lord's Prayer permissive.
That is, allowed if the school board so decided. However, no school board decision on the matter could be recalled, and Dr. McKenna said at this point that he would like Mr. Griffin's opinion.

GUN THIEF HELD
Accomplice $1411 Sought.
George S. Mitchell, 19, of Mammoth Junction, has been held over by Magistrate Theodore T. Tams, Jr., to face charges before the Mercer County grand jury of stealing two pistols from the home of Dean William D. Lippincott.
He is out on $25 bail.

Mitchell implicated Howard
M. Titus, 20, of Route 27, Lincoln Highway, Rocky Hill, as his accomplice. Titus, still being sought by the police, is reported living in New York.

The theft took place on August 16, between 6:30 and 11:45 p.m. at Joseph Henry House, Dean Lippincott's campus home, near Nassau Hall.
When Dean Lippincott returned from dinner, he found his house had been ransacked.
Missing were two souvenirs, a loaded Japanese automatic pistol and a .22 caliber pistol.

The guns were found in a Witherspoon Street telephone booth three days later, following an anonymous tip to Borough police. Mitchell, who has since admitted to police that he made the call, was arrested
October 5 and pleaded guilty.
Borough Detective Robert Mc-Avenia and Detective Arthur Gallant said that Titus, when located, will also be held for the grand jury.

PROBLEMS CONSOLIDATION WILL SOLVE BEST FOR YOU

HOUSING

Do You Realize That...

- More and more young Princetonians cannot afford to live in their home town?
- About 37% of the staff of the Borough
schools, between 40 and 50% of the Township schools staff, live outside the Princeton area? Good prospective teachers have been lost through lack of housing?
- There is no housing for the elderly in Princeton, although federal assistance is available for building units designed specifically for older citizens?

RECREATION

Do You Realize That...

- The Borough is more than 50% below
standard, the Township about 25% below, in recreation now in use? Is neither area is that space adequately developed?
- Unless the needs of teen-agers are met,
lack of facilities in both municipalities must inevitably help produce a rising rate of juvenile delinquency?
- If the Borough does not join the Township in a Joint Recreation Commission, the Township will be forced to curtail its plans and the Borough will have no an-surance its residents may use Township facilities?
- Even if a Joint Commission is agreed on, each decision of the Commission must be ratified by both governments. It would be harder to find a surer way to hampering a Commission.

The Borough has no space for additional housing or recreation. The Township, though developing excellent plans for recreation, has not officially recognized that it has housing problems. Only through consolidation can we sensibly and efficiently tackle both these problems... for the benefit of the old and young... for the benefit of our one Princeton Community.

WORRIED ABOUT TAXES?

Consolidation can and must be accomplished without creating unfair tax burdens. The Law (Title 40, Chapter 43, Section 66-6) permits setting different tax rates. Borough residents will not assume Township debts.

THINKING ABOUT JOBS IN:

- EDUCATIONAL SYSTEMS?
- POLICE FORCES?
- FIRE COMPANIES?
- LOCAL GOVERNMENTS?

Consolidation can and must be accomplished without loss of jobs or status.

Obituaries

George J. Stierl, 77, of 5 Harrison Lane, Princeton Junction, died October 23 in Princeton Hospital. A life-long resident of the Princeton area, he served for many years in the Princeton Post Office, holding the position of assistant postmaster at the time of his retirement in 1943.

He was the husband of Mrs.

Marguerite von Stein Stierl. Two grandchildren also survive.

A private funeral will be held with burial in Franklin Memorial Park.

John H. Madden, 88, of 64 Leigh Avenue, died October 16 in Princeton Hospital. Born in Lawrence, S. C., he had lived here for 40 years.

Surviving are a son, Clarence, of Princeton; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Sullivan and Mrs. Mamie Barclay of Princeton and Mrs. Cora Lumpkin of Hartford, Conn.; four sisters, 18 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren. The service was held at a Trenton funeral home with interment in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Jeanette M. Bosak, 40, wife of Michael Bosak of 52 Dorann Avenue, died October 17 in Princeton Hospital. She had been a nurse in the hospital for 13 years.

A lifelong resident of Princeton is also survived by a brother, James R. Larkin of Pennsylvania.

Inequum high mass was held in St. Paul's Church with interment in the parish cemetery. Arrangements were handled by the Kimble Funeral Home.

John F. Robbins, 71, died October 18 at his home on Village Road West, Dutch Neck. He was a bottle gas dealer.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Maude Lawton Robbins; a son, John F. of Dutch Neck; a daughter, Mrs. Walter Loper of Parlin; and four grandchildren. The funeral was held in Allentown, the Rev. James Weaver of Dutch Neck Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment was in Dutch Neck Cemetery.

Benjamin H. Lackey of 39 Main Street, Kingston, died October 20 in Princeton Hospital.

Why Plan to Vote Republican or Democratic

By Paul C. Mord, Jr.

A unique feature of Princeton is its local government. While there is nothing unusual about non-salaried, non-professional city councils, to have one that works with the effectiveness of ours is indeed rare. This, of course, is due entirely to capable, public-spirited citizens who are willing to give of their time to serve on Borough Council and on other important civic committees.

Two such men are ALFRED E. Sorenson and WILLIAM H. WALKER, II, long-time Princeton residents and property owners. Al and Bill have served on our Borough Council for nine and three years, respectively. Prior to that, each served on important civic committees. Bill Walker is currently President of Council, a position once held by Al Sorenson. Each man is eminently qualified by his professional training.

Al, a graduate engineer for many years, is currently an Associate Professor of Mechanical Engineering on the faculty of Princeton University. Bill is currently an active registered Princeton architect.

It is Al Sorenson's training and experience that makes him an invaluable member of Council in all matters technical. With the Sewer Bonds sold to be retired, it will be necessary for Princeton Borough, Princeton Township and Princeton University to draw up a new sewer operating agreement.

Al Sorenson is more knowledgeable on this subject than other members of Borough Council or Township Committee. He has been directly concerned with our communities, engineering problems for a time greater than all the combined periods of residency of his two Democratic opponents.

The question of Borough and Township consolidation is again being widely discussed. Again there are sizeable groups within both communities that take opposite positions on this important question. It is evident that in the near future this must be decided by referendum.

In the meantime, we should refrain from emotional arguments, pro or con. Every effort should be turned to the establishment of facts, the advantages or disadvantages of consolidation.

During 1962, relations between our respective governing bodies have noticeably improved. This has resulted in the initiation of a number of joint studies to determine ways and means of closer cooperation between our two communities. The outcome of such studies should have an important bearing on the question of consolidation. I would much prefer that these studies continue with Messrs. Sorenson and Walker on our Borough Council than with two new members, neither of whom own property in Princeton, neither of whom were residents of Princeton until years after the question of consolidation was last voted upon.

Let's give our Borough Council a vote of confidence. Re-elect ALFRED E. Sorenson and WILLIAM H. WALKER, II to Borough Council. Vote REPUBLICAN on November 6.

By Stanley Kelley, Jr.

The stand for consolidation taken by the Democratic candidates for Borough Council—James E. Andrews and Shaw Livermore, Jr.—may very well turn out to have been poor politics.

Most of us would probably prefer to let sleeping dogs lie—sleeping dogs in this instance being questions about taxes, planning, housing, traffic and parking, recreation. Any proposed change in government and that community what consolidation involves, is bound to affect us on all these fronts and more.

The fact is, however, that it was not the Democratic candidates who raised the consolidation issue. That issue was raised by the location of Princeton, already on the outskirts of Trenton, halfway between the Philadelphia and New York metropolitan areas, at a time when the Atlantic coast from Boston to Norfolk, Virginia, is becoming one vast, urban sprawl.

The rising demands on the school system, the housing problem, the replacement of green areas with black top parking lots, traffic congestion, the trucks that grow up Washington Road and Bayard Lane—all of these, direct or indirectly, reflect pressure on the Princeton community of rapid population growth and economic change in the larger community of which it is a part. That pressure will grow. The sleeping dogs are not going to remain asleep, whatever our feelings about the matter might be.

Obviously, consolidation is not a panacea to the problems being forced on Princeton. But it is a step toward meeting them. Traffic is obviously a problem that requires an overall coordination of effort between the two communities. The entire Princeton community—which is one community—must govern to the contrary notwithstanding.

So is planning for further commercial development. So is parking space, so is housing for the aged and for middle income groups, so is education, and so is recreation.

Democratic candidates Livermore and Andrews are approaching the consolidation issue, it seems to me, with common sense and with a pragmatic appreciation of what it means in human terms. They have shown themselves to be both aware and appreciative of the past services of those who work for the Borough in its school system, its police force, in its other offices, and in its volunteer fire department ready to defend the interests of these men and women in the future.

Their proposals on taxes are both sensible and fair. The State Consolidation Act permits the setting of differential tax rates in consolidating communities, and they mean to take advantage of this provision. Livermore and Andrews are undoubtedly liberals, if we mean by that term that they are willing to take action on problems and that they are interested in protecting the rights of all Princetonians in income, occupational, and racial groups in the community's future. They are better conservatives than the Republicans, however, if conservatism implies a deep desire to preserve Princeton's best features and the willingness to take practical measures to do so.

The Democratic candidates for Borough Council have shown the courage to face up to a difficult issue—one that, perhaps, they might better have avoided as candidates, but one that we cannot avoid as citizens. They have not only faced up to the issue, but they have done so thoughtfully and sensibly. For this they have my admiration and my vote.

ATOMIC HOLOCAUST!--- OR???

In this United Nations week, are you willing to spend a few moments of your time to think about the United Nations? To stimulate your thinking, we of the Princeton Chapter of the United World Federalists, who have been working for world peace through enforceable world law by strengthening the United Nations, invite you to fill out this questionnaire and send it to:

United World Federalists, P.O. Box 27, Princeton, N. J.

1. Do you foresee maintenance of world peace without some form of world government?

Yes () No ()

2. The United States insisted on having veto power in the Security Council when the United Nations was formed. Would you be willing to see such veto right eliminated?

Yes () No ()

3. Presently, the General Assembly, under the UN charter, is intended to be primarily a discussion group and recommending body, with each member nation having one vote regardless of population, economic level, educational level or armed strength. Do you consider such representation to be realistic and equitable?

Yes () No ()

4. According to its charter, the UN should maintain peace and security on an international level and, yet, should not intervene in matters essentially within the jurisdiction of any state. Do you believe that the UN had the right to intervene in the Congo?

Yes () No ()

5. Would you favor armed intervention by the UN in Cuba, now that Russia is furnishing arms and "technicians" to Castro?

Yes () No ()

6. Would you favor such intervention in the event that Russia sends armed forces and naval vessels?

Yes () No ()

7. Are you willing to have U.S., along with other nations, give up some of its sovereignty to a world organization assuming a workable formula for enduring peace could be achieved through such an organization?

Yes () No ()

8. Assuming a world organization were successfully organized to maintain world peace, would you be willing to have such a body have the power to levy taxes on member nations on an equitable basis provided such taxes could only be used for maintenance and use of its armed forces and the general administration of the organization?

Yes () No ()

9. Would you favor, as an individual, the participation of the U.S. in a world disarmament plan assuming that all nations of the world, except the U.S., were in favor of such a plan?

Yes () No ()

10. Provided a world organization could effectively guarantee the elimination of war between nations, would you, as an individual, favor U.S. membership assuming that all other conditions were satisfactory to you except that, in your opinion:

Yes () No ()

(a) Representation would be inequitable?

Yes () No ()

(b) Guarantees as to non-intervention to domestic affairs would not be adequate?

Yes () No ()

(c) Redistribution of the world wealth might be possible through taxation?

Yes () No ()

(d) Its charter would invite liberal interpretation because of broad and general statements as to its powers and limitations?

Yes () No ()

(e) All of the above were not satisfactory?

Yes () No ()

We would be pleased to have you provide your name and address, if you so desire.

THROUGH A GLASS, DARKLY: Does the United States worry too much about how other countries see it? Not enough, say Miss Helen Walker (left) and Miss Janice Falterson. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: In your opinion, does the United States pay too much attention or not enough to the opinions of other countries?

Where asked: Around town.

Miss Helen Walker, New Hope, Pa., assistant bookkeeper for Public Service, Princeton Shopping Center: I don't feel we pay too much attention to what other countries think, and I think we should. I think we should care what others think of our actions, especially our allies. But I will say that I think we should take care of our own internal problems first before we start worrying about foreign problems.

Miss Janice Falterson, Princeton Junction, clerk typist, Public Service, Princeton Shopping Center: I don't know whether we pay too much attention or not, but I feel we should be concerned with what other countries think of us. In this way, we will know where we stand. In the past, I suppose we have ignored world opinion, but I think we should always take it under consideration.

John M. Rice, 343 Prospect Avenue, consultant: I don't feel we pay enough attention to other countries. I think we just go ahead and do whatever we want to, thinking it is the best way. I myself think we should consider the viewpoint of other countries before we try to assert our opinion to them.

Andrew Czerwinski, Hamilton Square, butcher, A & M Market, Shopping Center: Truthfully, in my opinion, I think we do place too much emphasis on the opinion of other countries to the detriment of our own good. I'll tell you one thing: I think we should take care of our own problems at home first. We have plenty of them. If the other countries see we're in tip-top shape, then they're likely to go along with our opinions because they can see we know what we're doing. Look at that incident in South America with Nixon. If that's the sign of a friendly country, then we are better off not giving any help or worrying in the least what they think of us.

Mrs. Charles Schwartz, Belle Mead, housewife: Yes, I feel we pay too much attention to other countries' opinions. We are afraid of what they think others may think. I think we bear the brunt of the opinions of the world because we give in so easily. We're so afraid to go out on the limb and do something for fear of what Russia may think or how our allies will interpret it.

Frederick Kikelian, North Brunswick, parts manager for Kingston Garage: Overall, not enough. There are an awful lot of things going on in the world that the government doesn't know about or, worse, doesn't care to know. On the other hand, we can become a little too interested in other countries' affairs and opinions — like France, for example — when we want certain favors from them.

David Gill, Old York Road, Hightstown, student: I think we pay too much attention in trying to project the image of ourselves we want others to see instead of doing what we should for our best interests. I think we tend to think of ourselves as so important that we forget that other countries have their own problems and aren't hanging on everything we do or say. I doubt if other countries are that concerned with our policies except when they themselves are involved. I suspect our recent relations with Cuba would not get more than 12 inches of space in most foreign papers.

Mrs. Harold Shapiro, 13 Erdman Avenue, student and housewife: I think the government should pay at least as much attention to the opinions of others as they are at the present time. Certainly no less. Now is the time when we should pay attention to the opinions of the emerging nations because if we don't help them they will seek support elsewhere. And this will endanger our internal as well as external position.

Benjamin Brown, Rocky Hill, owner of hauling business: I think we should keep a closer eye than we do on the opinions of other countries. Cuba is a good example. The Communists got the upper hand before we knew what was happening. Now we are afraid to go in there and kick them out for fear of what the rest of the world will think. I feel since we are a great power and a world leader, it is almost an obligation on our part that we know what is going on in the rest of the world and that we remain sensitive of the opinions of other countries.

Bruce Guest, Nottingham Way, accountant: I agree. Actually, I feel we take world opinion into consideration. We gather facts on all sides as what other countries and our allies are thinking before we act. In the degree, however, that it would, in many cases, alter our thinking, I don't think world opinion would force us from doing anything we felt was right. I do feel that this country thinks other countries give more attention to our moves than they actually do.

1,135,300 NEW JERSEY HOMES PROVE OILHEAT BEST!

with responsible family men it's OILHEAT 2½ to 1*

Responsible heads of families—more than a million of them in New Jersey—choose and stay with MODERN OILHEAT because it's the best fuel for their family. One major reason is that OILHEAT is CRYSTAL CLEAN. It's NON-TOXIC... and there are no dangerous fumes to worry about. They can leave their family in the morning confident the family will be safe and snug when they return at night.

Why be satisfied with less popular fuels and costlier ones to boot? Move up with the MODERN MILLION who rely on MODERN OILHEAT. Phone the OILHEAT dealer of your choice for the eye-opening facts. He has no monopoly on your business. He must satisfy you... or a competitor will!

*Figures taken from latest U. S. Government Census reveal that 1,135,300 households in N. J. use OILHEAT while only 446,200 use the second most popular fuel.

Light a Candle for '89

To the Editor of Town Topics:
I wish to compliment you on the excellent article on Professor Charles Rogers in your current issue. But I also want to offer a correction.

You place in the Princeton class of 1906, a class of average distinction, whereas he belongs to the greatest Princeton class of all time, viz. 1902. And 1909 is very proud of our Charlie Rogers, and our other light in many fields.

Urges Core Road Action

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Following is the text of a letter written to Mayor Patterson and members of the Council of Princeton Borough.

"The recently announced closing of College Road represents one more in a series of happenings which significantly affect the daily lives of Princeton residents. The upset of commuters' schedules and the increased congestion of Nassau Street are the most obvious results of the University's action, but this alteration of one important link in the traffic system of the Princeton area will have long-range effects hard to predict. Many unilateral and unchallenged decisions of the past few years are still bearing consequences unanticipated and some times disastrous to the Princeton community.

"Residents of Princeton are growing ever more aware of the need for a careful thinking through of any contemplated changes in traffic, zoning, or construction in this region. The wide-spread interest shown this fall in the Adult School course in Community and Regional Planning, the growing support of the Stony Brook-Milstone River Watershed Association, Green Area, and Open Space programs, the combining of small neighborhood groups in coordinated attempts to preserve the residential-educational character of the community, all indicate that citizens want to become better informed and take a more responsible part in planning Princeton's future.

"As people closely concerned in these matters, 'Residents of Princeton' urge the Mayor and Council of the Borough to take immediate steps to correct a situation which permits arbitrary planning and decision without consulting the many who may be adversely affected. We advocate and support any move toward a collaboration of the planning bodies of Princeton University and the two municipalities in their overall policy-making. We would support a public forum or town meeting at which people concerned could meet the planners, raise questions and voice their reactions.

"We hope this matter and the question of proposed alternatives to College Road as a thoroughfare may be placed on the agenda of the next Borough Council meeting, November 20 and that interested citizens will be able to discuss them with the Mayor or Council at that time.

Who's Kidding Whom?

To the Editor of Town Topics:
I am blushing for you! How can you print a letter like Bill Marvel's last week in 'straight face'? Or did you have your tongue in cheek?

Bill Marvel sat on Township Committee for 12 years. Three years when Raymond Male was sitting not only in, but in control of Borough Hall. Both of these gentlemen, as I am surely everybody knows, are Democrats. In that period, what progress was made toward consolidation? Exactly none.

Since January 1, 1962, with solid Republican Committee and Council, we are about 500 miles further down the track toward constructive solution of our joint problems. What are you trying to do, Bill Marvel, louse things up again? Who are you trying to kid, TOWN TOPICS?

FRANK F. SCHLEY
1000 Princeton-Kingston Rd.

Editor's Note: Mr. Schley isn't kidding TOWN TOPICS, or perceptive Princetonians, either. Regardless of the political blame the snail's pace at which municipal cooperation—and a study of consolidation—have been traveling is a near municipal tragedy.

University Cited for "Contempt"

To the Editor of Town Topics:
The fine contempt the University administration has for the community of Princeton was illustrated again last week by the announcement of the present closing of College Road from Washington Road to University Place.

This vital east-west road lies partly in the Borough and partly in the Township, and it is the only access to the railroad station (other than Nassau Street) for the whole eastern end of town. The new faculty Road-Alexander Street approach to the station is approximately one mile longer and includes a highly dangerous grade crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

But even if there were no railroad station, College Road from Springdale Road to Harrison Street must be kept open: it is the only east-west thoroughfare between Lake Carnegie and Nassau Street. If it is closed, the daily traffic jams on Nassau Street will strangle the town.

This is the second time in as many months that the University administration has effectively thumbed its nose at the community. Its proposal to park cars in the University Place area has been stalled by citizen action. No cars on campus sounds very good indeed.

but hardly at the expense of the homes adjacent to the university.

The attitude of the administration seems to be "What's convenient for the University better be good for the community." Or perhaps more succinctly: "The town be damned." Actually, the university is favored by a large area of unbroken campus, and it is little enough to concede the single road the town must have to move parallel to Nassau Street. More shocking than this move by the university is the failure of the Borough Council and the Township Committee to protest it. Mayor Patterson of the Borough has announced that he plans no protest, and at the last meeting of the Township Committee, it was necessary to prod them by a question from the floor even to consider the matter.

Nevertheless, this much is now certain: if College Road is closed, the community will be forced (sooner or later) to open a right of way through the university grounds by condemning the land. This will result in open hostility between the town and its single greatest asset. I suggest the University reconsider its decision to close College Road.

JOHN HITE
601 Prospect Avenue

R.S.V.P.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
We need help! For weeks now, we have been conscientiously discussing the issues facing voters in the November election for Borough Council seats. In a series of advertisements in your newspaper we have set out what we believe to be the problem Princeton faces and the way in which consolidation can meet these problems better than any other course of action we know of. We hoped that by this time we would have heard something from the incumbent members of the Council who are seeking re-election. We would like to know what they feel about the future of Princeton.

We haven't heard a thing from them except a few advertisements asking the voters to elect them again because they are incumbents and Republicans (as are the mayor and all other members of the Borough Council). They claim the advantage of experience, but we don't know what they are experienced at doing. Nor do we know what their experience tells them about the future of Princeton.

Do you know where they are? Do you know to whom they have given their recommendations for meeting Princeton's pressing problems during the next three years? We believe Princetonians deserve a sensible and intelligent discussion of real issues before they go to the polls. Simply having been in office doesn't seem to us enough when one seeks the votes of our citizens.

Maybe they are saving everything for a last-minute blitz. Maybe they have found other ways to give their views than open statement in Princeton's newspapers. Whatever the case, we would appreciate any news you may have heard about them.

Dear Travelers:

Tokyo hotels have been taking reservations for the 1964 Olympic Games
since the first of October. I mean to make mine SODON!

If I just go ahead and reserve a room for 17 days,
that is, from Friday, October 9, 1964 to Sunday, October 25, that will give me
one extra day before the games begin and another day after they end. Will probably get a group together and I've got to make sure everyone has his pasport all in order.

That will be easy, though,
with the Free Passport Clinic down here at THAVE-LEX every Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 9:30. Alan Richards, of course, does the honors and the pictures are excellent. No more jokes about, "You'd never

The government in Tokyo is doing a tremendous organizational job for the Olympics. For instance, you can't even make an application for a ticket to the games unless you have proof of a hotel reservation.

So everyone who wants to go should get on the ball and start making tracks!

As ever,

HOPE FOR STABLE TAXES
Township Candidates Speak.
In a statement issued this week to Township voters, Republican candidates John O.
Green, Jr. and Carl C. Schafer, Jr., discuss the finances of Township government.

"We believe every citizen wants Princeton Township to be a kind community in which to live and in which many of us may safely have substantial investments in property," the candidates begin, concluding with the statement that the end of 1961 saw a surplus of $47,500 in the Township bank balance with a debt of less than one percent of the average assessed valuation.

Urging the election of Republicans to the Mercer County Board of Chosen Freeholders, Mr. Green and Mr. Schafer, Jr., say: "The unquestionable
drain on your pocketbook by a County Board of Freeholders which refuses to accept its duties as a public trust can be stopped only by the election of responsible candidates to that office."

The candidates say that, if they are elected, they will recommend the appointment of a liaison officer to serve between Township Committee and the County.

Capital Funds Needed. Mr.
Green and Mr. Schafer cited the open space program, sewer expansion, a joint library and the extension of the major road network as areas of "essential capital investment that must be served adequately in the immediate future" with the expenditure of "substantial sums of money." To this list they add expanded recreational facilities, a new municipal government center and investments in master planning and consolidation planning as matters which will require expenditures.

"We cannot pledge that we will oppose further increases in the local tax rate... nevertheless, we do not feel that annual rise in taxes is inevitable. We know of only one way to control expenditures, that way is to require full justification for every planned expenditure and to scrutinize
where every dollar goes."

In discussing planning and zoning, Mr. Green and Mr.
Schafer express their intent to continue present planning policies and urge the projection of the community's needs into the future, keeping the planning operation continuous.

They ask planning in terms of the whole community, including neighboring counties and regions.

"We feel that the present zoning ordinance should be followed closely. Substantial deviations from our established land use program can only result in the total breakdown of the careful planning work which has been done so far."

Mr. Green and Mr. Schafer, Jr., suggest the rezoning of research park for one and one-half acre residential lots to provide equivalent tax value to the light industry for which the area is now zoned, reaffirming their support of the Planning Board's decision against light industry in the Township.

News Of The CHURCHES

BULLETIN NOTES

• A public relations workshop will be held from 9:30 to 3:30 this Friday at Witherspoon Presbyterian Church. The sponsors are the United Church Women of the State of New Jersey. Mrs. Harold S. Faust, national chairman of public relations, will speak.

Assisting are: Mrs. R. B. Davidson, Boonton, state chairman for public relations; Mrs. Floyd Campbell and the church's Women's Association as hostesses; Mrs. Thomas R. Webb, president of the Princeton unit of UCS, and Mrs. Orion C. Hopper, registrations. All interested in press, radio and TV communications are invited.

• A rummage sale, sponsored by three units of the Princeton Jewish Center, will be held at 13 Witherspoon Street. Hours are: 9:30 to 7 on Monday; 9:30-4:30 Tuesday and Wednesday. Unit representatives are Mrs. Manfred Rost and Mrs. Sam Goldman, Women's Division; Mrs. Elu Zeeheim and Mrs. Harry Winthrop, B'nai B'rith; Mrs. Joel Greenberg and Mrs. Irving Heitner, Hadassah.

• Bach's Cantata 79, "God the Lord is Sun and Shield," will be presented by the choir of Lutheran Church of the Messiah at the 9 and 11 a.m. services this Sunday. Margaret Fraok Knedler will be soloist; Dorothy Kovacs, guest flutist; Robert Kovacs will conduct, with John Peck at the organ.

• A new youth program begins at 8 p.m. Friday, November 2, for high schoolers at Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church. George Morcy of Princeton Seminary will be in charge. The first session will be a square dance. Programs to come include sports, singing, dancing and discussions—all to be held on Friday nights.

• Dr. Lee H. Bristol, president of Westminster Choir College, will be guest minister at both worship services this Sunday at First Presbyterian Church. Dr. Bristol is currently serving as vice-chairman of the General Division of Laymen's Work in the Second Province of the Episcopal Church and as trustee of the Berkeley Divinity School, New Haven, Conn. He is a former president of the Laymen's Movement for a Christian World. His topic will be "What Difference Does It Make?"

• Mrs. Kenneth Maxwell, wife of the executive secretary of the Department of International Affairs of the National Council of Churches, will discuss the Council at a session of the Princeton Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service at 8 p.m., Thursday, November 1. Devotions will be led by Mrs. T. R. Webb, president of the United Church Women of Princeton. Refreshments will be served by the Hostemaker-Ivren Circle.

• The fall rummage sale sponsored by the Ladies Aid of Calvary Baptist Church, Hopewell, will be held from 9 to 4 next Thursday, November 1, and 9 to 1 p.m., Friday, November 2.

TOWNSHIP VOTERS! FOLEY & HITE DO OUR TAXES REALLY HAVE TO BE SO HIGH?

You may think they're high this year —
But they're nothing compared to what they'll be in a few years,
UNLESS SOME DRASTIC CHANGES ARE MADE.
There is only ONE HOPE for controlling our taxes:

GETTING LABORATORIES, OFFICE BUILDINGS AND OTHER ACCEPTABLE TAX-PAYING RATABLES IN THE TOWNSHIP'S RESEARCH ZONE

And on this, the one-party Township Committee has accomplished NOTHING

Here's its record of . . .

MISLEADERSHIP ON TAX RATABLES (showing how we've been misled by those who undertook a public trust to protect our interests)

WE WERE LED TO BELIEVE
that because we have a large research zone, as the Master Plan provides, our zoning welcomes suitable labs and office buildings.

BUT IT'S NOT SO . . . The fact is — zoning for this area is so full of restrictions, it adds up to a "KEEP OUT" sign.

WE WERE LED TO BELIEVE that the Township Committee was really concerned about ratables as an answer to our tax burdens. It even appointed an Economic Development Commission.

BUT IT'S NOT SO . . . The fact is — not another word was heard of the Commission from the moment it was announced. Nothing else has been done. The research zone is still empty.

WE WERE LED TO BELIEVE that the study done by the Planning Board's consultant, proved that we would be better off with ratables in the Research Zone, than if we turned it all back to residential use.

BUT IT'S NOT SO . . . The fact is — this so-called study is a jumble of text, charts and graphs. It is so confused and inconsistent that it points to no clear-cut conclusion at all.

A BIG ONE THAT GOT AWAY

Why shouldn't Princeton Township want a good tax rotatable that

- is sponsored by eminent Princeton citizens;
- would produce no nuisances at all;
- would not add a single child to the school rolls;
- would cost next to nothing in new services;
- AND WOULD PAY US OVER $125,000 A YEAR IN TAXES!

There is such a rotatable and we could have had it . . . but the Township Committee let it slip right through their fingers!

SO A NEIGHBORING TOWNSHIP WILL BENEFIT FROM THIS HUGE TAX ADVANTAGE.

FOR TWENTY YEARS, EVER SINCE PRINCETON TOWNSHIP REJECTED THE RCA LAB, IT'S BEEN THE SAME OLD STORY . . . AND IT'S BEEN THE SAME OLD ONE-PARTY GOVERNMENT.

Our Pledge

WE SOLEMNLY PLEDGE, THAT IF ELECTED WE WILL

- Concentrate on the Township's serious tax problems.
- Call for a thorough, public review of the situation.
- Exert all the pressure we can to get the Township back on the track and actively seeking tax ratables.

No Home For This House

The well-travelled 130-year-old house at 44 Washington Road will be demolished, Princeton University announced this week, to make way for the new building of the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs.

The house was offered in August to any member of the faculty, administration or other Princeton resident who would undertake to move it to a new site. Only two or three persons expressed interest in the building and none took any action. The university disclosed that the university called "structural weakness" in the building, probably caused by two previous moves, and estimates indicated that the cost of moving the house would be prohibitive.

their chief, Donald Blattner.
Members of the tribe are Frank and Monty Schley, John

ONE THAT WENT THE DISTANCE: Tailback Greg Riley followed his interference to perfection as he raced 26 yards into the Colgate endzone Saturday. On the play, Captain Dan Terpack was credited with throwing two blocks—one at the line of scrimmage, a second that allowed Riley to escape the last tackler at the goal line.

SPORTS In Princeton

DEPTH UNHARNESSED

As Tigers head for Ithaca. If the unusual depth with which Princeton's football squad is presumably blessed this year is to prove a bonanza, the first part of the harvest will have to be reaped Saturday on Cornell's picturesque Schnectkott Field.

The impressive opening performance against Rutgers has not been followed with anything close to the solid single wing football that had been expected of this Tiger entry in the 1962 Ivy League derby. Depth is a major asset only if it is accompanied by cohesion, and since it smacked Penn for 21 points in 12 minutes at Philadelphia, Princeton has produced a few consecutive periods of largely uncoordinated football.

Mistakes which should not occur even in the first game of the season were responsible for the 16-15 upset at the hands of an eager but hardly top-grade Colgate eleven Saturday. The visitors had the ability and initiative to come from behind in the final quarter, but the basic point is that they never would have been within hailing distance had it not been for a series of errors that kept Princeton's offense sputtering and coughing all afternoon.

Even if the inconsistent attack could do no more than match Colgate in touchdowns, it was not a game that would have been lost by a single point had it not been for Princeton mistakes. It is the tendency to make them in such glaring fashion as the season reaches the half-way mark that raises the question as to when the polish essential to victory over a strong opponent will appear.

An Error Per Quarter. During the course of the game, Princeton was deluged with a costly mistake every 15 minutes. The omission of any one of the four could have meant the difference between victory and defeat.

The game was less than seven minutes old when a missed backfield assignment resulted in a ghost pass from center on the Tigers' 13. Colgate failed to control the ball in the end zone and had to settle for two points when it bounded past the goal posts, but the scales had already been tipped in a contest decided by extra points.

Midway through the second quarter, tailback Hugh Macmillan fumbled on being tackled, the ball spiraling upwards into the hands of Colgate's Art Irwin, who legged it 47 yards into the Princeton end zone. The two fumbles were worth nine points in a game in which 16 were good enough to win.

Near the end of the third quarter, Princeton was on the Colgate seven, first and goal to go, when Pete Forcisi fumbled the pass from center. The drive stalled out, an attempted field goal by sophomore Mike Greco was wide and Colgate was still very much in the ball game. It was the eighth Princeton fumble on four very dry Saturday afternoons, and the fifth without contact by an opposing tackler.

After the visitors had driven 46 yards and booted the point to go ahead, 16-13, 401 remained on the clock. Princeton moved downfield against time but failed to make the most of the remaining minutes because it lost track of the number of time outs it had left.

Dave Gouldin's field goal, attempted with 23 seconds to go, was on target but short by about five yards. Had one more play been run for a gain of that much, and the kick tried after the time out had stopped the clock, Princeton might very well have had an 18-16 victory.

For the second week in a row, the hit-or-miss attack accounted for all its points in one period. The 15 hung on the scoreboard in the second quarter were the result of touchdown drives of 70 yards, Riley going over on a great 26-yard end sweep, and Dave Ibbeken sprinting around the right flank from ten yards out to climax a 35-yard march that also beat the clock.

But here again, Princeton strategy was guilty of an error. Had the second conversion been a successful two-point try, Colgate would have had to go for two to win in the fourth quarter—always a much tougher play with the outcome hanging in the balance.

WHAT'S WITH CORNELL? Red in Trouble Again. For the second year in a row, a Cornell team that had an ap-

Recently bright Princeton outlook is unlikely to top the 500 mark injuries were a factor in the Red line's 3-6 record, topping only very weak Brown and Penn elements to play.

This year, coach Tom Harp's second figured to be markedly better for the Illiacs but unless they can duplicate Colgate's feat of upending a Tier 1 team, the trail may lead downward rapidly. To date, Cornell is 1-3, having suffered Harvard still a building and lost decisively to Colgate, Navy and Yale.

Big disappointment at New Haven, where the Red was in a territory only four lines and did not score until less than three minutes were left. In quarter 2-8, was quarter-back Gary Wood. Something of a sensation as a sophomore, he battled around 30 as a passer, completing six for touchdown, he could not end only twice against Yale as the losers were completely outplayed.

Jim Lamkins, no more than 5-9 and 175, is Cornell's top threat as a ball carrier, with Mike Strick, also 175, running with him as the other half-back. Bob Milne, 180, starts at fullback.

Cornell uses the Lonely End formation, splitting the man on the right flank a good 18 yards away from the tackle. The line is always unbalanced, well-run, the attack provides an opportunity for power on quick-operations depending on tallouts, handoffs or keepers and offers a wide variety of pass patterns built around the Lonely End.

The Red has a 200-lb line which will have an eight-pound advantage on Princeton men. It is, however, up front that the game has gotten away from the Illiacs against Colgate, Navy and Yale—a hitherto unimpressive fit outfit ran and passed for 368 yards in chewing up the Cornell offense.

Colman Takes Blame. At his Sunday press conference, Dick Colman readily admitted that he had lost track of time outs left to Princeton. He said that quarterback John Henrich had known there was one available, but had been overruled when the blackclinking team of Dave Gouldin and Dave Ibbeken had been sent into the game.

Agreeing that "one more pass should have been thrown before the kick was tried," the Tiger coach called the error on his part "inexcusable." He also second-guessed himself by saying that he should have gone for two points instead of the placekicks after the second Princeton touchdown.

Not since it was unexpectedly clobbered, 34 to 8, by a Cornell team which entered the 1958 game as a slight underdog has Princeton been guilty of such a poor performance against what has to be a mediocre football team. On that occasion at Ithaca, the coaching reports had gone awry, accounting in large

"Team of Destiny" Renoltes

Surviving members of Princeton University's undefeated football team of the 1922 season held a reunion Saturday to mark the 40th anniversary of a memorable fall. Players, coaches, masters and widows of deceased members attended a luncheon in Wilcox Hall.

It won't be beaten, can't be beaten" upon mighty Chicago, 19 to 18, in the first game Princeton ever played in the mid-west. The successful campaign was then concluded with a 10-3 victory over Harvard and a 3-0 defeat of Yale in Palmer Stadium.

Team members present for the occasion included: Mel Dickenson the captain; Brad Dismore, John Gorman, "Pink" Baker, Harvey Emery, Don Griffin, all of Princeton; and Net Fox, a member of Roger's coaching staff at the time.

measure for the result: last week, it was the Tigers' loss to play top-grade football that were misaid.

Three major problems bulk largely in the climatic league games immediately ahead. The passing is by no means as sharp as it should be; the timing is still bad enough so that illegal procedure, back in motion and offside penalties are a constant chain on the Tiger; and fumbling, with or without contact, remains costly.

Luckily for Princeton, it is not faced to the next two weeks with a top-grade Ivy opponent. Cornell is dangerous, but not solid. Brown is better than last year's 0-9 operatives, but not much.

If Princeton can win at Ithaca, it still must make steady progress to remain even with Harvard and Yale teams which can currently claim that achievement. If the Tigers lose in Cornell, Princeton fans may as well start discussing the winter sports season, for which practice begins next Thursday.

THE TIME IS NOW

For SPLITTING PHS. At the conclusion of an 18-0 defeat administered to his team Saturday by Ewing High School—Princeton's 11th's second straight shutout and fifth loss in a row—PHS coach Dick Wood shook his head, half in disbelief, half in despair, and murmured, "We're getting worse instead of better." He was speaking of his team's offense, or rather, the lack of it.

Clearly, it is the offense that holds the key to any possible Little Tiger victory this season. The defense is there. It proved itself by holding a heavily favored Trenton eleven scoreless until the final play of the game and again last week against Ewing. In those same two contests, the Little Tigers gained a total of four yards rushing and not more than one through the air.

Unfortunately for the beleaguered Blue and White, it has not had one breather in its first five outings. Startling

In North Plainfield, a Group 3 champion last year, PHS has faced nothing but strong teams, including two from Group 4 schools. This weekend, the story is different.

On Saturday at 2, PHS will oppose the Spartans of Seiner High School on the latter's home field. Coach Wood reports that Seiner would have to be considered as "the weakest team we will have played to date." After winning its first two contests, Seiner has lost its last two, including a 33-6 defeat Saturday by Moorestown.

Does Wood plan to make any changes in an offense that has scored just four touchdowns in five games? "No changes," said Wood.

"We're going to work and work on nothing but basic power plays. We're going to have to go back to fundamentals. There's a lot of mistakes offensively against Ewing."

Buy an annuity and live

Financial insecurity can lead to a barren and lonely existence for the older person. Those years after 60 can also bring the fear of out-living capital and the worry of managing the savings for a lifetime. The result—often severe stresses that can be dangerous to both physical and mental health.

People who buy annuities buy freedom from worry and fear. Our annuitants find that a regular income guaranteed for life brings peace of mind, helps make those sunset years a rich and satisfying experience. And we know that many live to a ripe old age.

Whether you are 30 and buying an annuity in advance or you are 70 and want payments to start now there's an annuity designed to bring you peace of mind. The Man from Manufacturers would be pleased to give you the complete story. Be sure to ask him about the favorable tax picture.

 ing boys not knowing their assignments and backs hitting the wrong holes. It had enough when you don't win but when you start doing things like this...."

PHS will be strengthened in its bid for a victory by the return to action of Jack Britton, 204-pound standout tackle, out with a slight concussion received in the Trenton contest. Also due to return, after being sidelined with minor injuries, are wingback Art Brooks and end Roy Ballinger. Offsetting this somewhat, however, is the loss of starter Jack Rosso at wingback. Rosso broke a bone above his ankle Saturday and will be out the rest of the season. He is a senior.

First In Six Years. Wood reported, following Saturday's defeat by the Blue Devils, that he had never seen an Ewing team this good. (It was the first time Ewing had defeated Princeton since 1956.)

"You have to hand it to them; they had it, offensively and defensively." To be more specific, Ewing did it 200 to 14 yards rushing and 13 to 4 in first downs.

"I have no fault to find with our defense," Wood added. "They played four-fifths of the game. But I was bitterly disappointed in the offense. If the offense had been better, our defense wouldn't have had so much time to make mistakes. I just can't understand why we can't go."

Although Ewing outshouted the visitors, 91 to 5 yards in the first half, the half was closer than the statistics indicate. Fifty-five yards in penalties called against Ewing kept the Blue Devils untracked. Except for its one score, Ewing never threatened.

As it was, PHS virtually gave Ewing its first tally. In the second period, deep in its own territory, PHS punted but Ewing, trying to red-dog the punter, was off-side. On the next attempt, Lea Santawaso's snaphack sailed over Brian Smith's head and was downed by the home team on the PHS two. After one crack at the goal had been halted, Joe Sgro went over from the one.

Two Chances. The losers had two excellent opportunities to score. Both fell short of fruition.

The first came on the fifth play of the game when John Smith intercepted a Ewing pass and returned it to the home team 16. An end run by Paul Walstad and another by Kowalski lost one yard. Wal-

PHS TAILBACK John Kowalski has scored two of the four touchdowns the little Tigers have registered this season. His first was a 73-yard return of the opening kick-off in the team's opener against North Plainfield.

stad's pass to Jack Rosso and Kowalski's to the same receiver were both broken up and Ewing took over on downs.

The second opportunity occurred in the second period. A pass, Walstad to captain Tom Reynolds, carried to the Blue Devil 40 and was followed by a swing pass from Kowalski to Art Brooks. Brooks finally being forced out on the 18, a fumbled pitchout lost 12 yards. On a fourth and 14 situation from the 22, PHS duffed off a Statue of Liberty play but the defenders were not fooled.

"Since everything we tried wasn't working, I told the boys to try it," Wood said. The contest was one of almost complete frustration for the little Tigers. Their tight backs could not dent the Ewing forward wall anchored by 222-pound Lynn Hubsch. All attempts to turn the Blue Devils' ends were smothered. Once again the PHS passing game failed to click as it connected on just three of 12 attempts.

In all fairness, however, it may well have been a case not of PHS impotence on the attack but one of Ewing excellence on the defense. Ewing coach Steven Muench told Wood that it was the best defensive effort displayed by his team all season.

Defensively for PHS, Wood cited the play of Pete Weber and that of defensive halfback Jim Norwood. Norwood, he said, played his usual steady defensive game. Also unveiled was Jack Jimenez. Case, a junior, Case saw action only briefly, but in those few minutes completed two passes. They weren't long but for a team as hungry for a capable passer as PHS is, even two completions is something to contemplate.

HUN STOPPED AGAIN
 Faces Friends Friday. The Hun School football team, 0-3-1, failed in its fourth attempt to win its first game of the season Saturday, when it fell before a well-drilled Tower Hill team here, 20-6. The chances of Hun winning that elusive first one will be better on Friday, however.

Hun will play host to Friends Central of Philadelphia at 3:15. Like Hun, the Pennsylvania school has found the current season rough going it won its first game of the season last week, edging George School, 2-0.

"It should be a good ball game, a close game," said Hun coach Hawley Waterman, "but I don't see how Central can be."—Continued on Page 26

 as tough as Tower Hill. Let's say they shouldn't be but then they know—who knows—you never can tell in this game.

"Central has one thing going for them," Waterman added. "They scouted us twice and we haven't seen them play this year. But our kids are still enthusiastic. They want to win and I think we have a good chance."

John Foaled, Tower Hill scored on the sixth play of the game. "We knew they had two good plays," said Waterman—"a halfback delay with an option to pass and a bootleg. We were looking for them but they pulled them right way. They fooled us badly in the first couple of plays."

After Tower Hill had scored in the opening minutes, the Red and Black countered with its only touchdown of the afternoon. The drive picked up momentum on two back-to-back option passes from halfback Greg Gannaz to end Lonnie Kaplan. Another pass, Ray Young to Phil Newell, carried to the visitors' eight. Gannaz then went off tackle for the TD.

Felt They'd Win. Waterman reported that he felt his team was going to win at the end

Cook Wins Golf Title

For the fifth time in a decade and a half, H. T. "Bud" Cook Jr. has won the championship of the Springleague Golf Club. In a three-hole final Sunday, Cook defeated Bill Wright, 8 and 6.

Cook was 3 up at the end of the morning 18, and finished the match on the 12th green in the afternoon. In the way to the finals, he eliminated Eddie Donovan, 3 and 2, and Elliott McVitt, 7 and 8. Cook scored Harry Hall, Jr., the 1961 champion.

The senior title, for members 55 and over, was won by Ross Shrader, who defeated Tom Dignan. Most of the remaining flights in the club championship are still in process of completion.

of the half. "We pushed them around throughout the last half of the first quarter and they never got back on us. We chewed them up the middle and ran up first down after first down. We thought we were going to win."

In support of Waterman's first-half optimism, Horn twice drove near the Tower Hill goal. Once it got as far as the four yard line but was unable to score. The half ended, 8-6. Tower Hill's slim margin was the result of a two-point conversion play, a bootleg by quarterback Larry Wilson.

If Horn "won" the first half, the visitors from Wilmington, Del., took the second in even more convincing fashion. Horn fumbled the kickoff away on its own 40, in seven plays. Tower Hill scored with Wilson plunging over from six yards out. From then on, said Waterman, they pushed us all over.

LARRIES STAY UNBEATEN
 Merceburg Is Next. A powerful, undefeated Lawrenceville School football team will be seeking to capture its fifth consecutive victory on Saturday at the expense of Merceburg Academy. The game will be played at Merceburg, Pa. Lawrenceville crushed an ancient rival, Peddie, 52-6, at Hightstown last week. Coach John Rydell's players put on an awesome display of single wing power, rolling up 340 yards and 20 first downs. Todd Orvald, a 6'1", 188 pound tailback from Whiteville, Pa., scored three of the visitors' eight touchdowns on runs of 4, 16 and 14 yards.

On the first play from scrimmage, Warren Moore scampered 55 yards. Three plays later, Orvald scored to cap a 55-yard drive. The Larries struck twice more to take a quick 20-0 lead before the end of the first period.

Lawrenceville continued to run through the Peddie defense throughout the afternoon. The visitors added another tally in the second quarter and two each in the third and fourth periods. Peddie scored its only six-pointers shortly before the end of the first half when Rick Spooner returned a kick-off from his own ten for a spectacular 90-yard TD.

BOWLING NOTES

Basile, Baldino In The Mike Basile and Joe Baldino each swept their three games this week to remain in first place in the Individual Classic League. Basile rolled the league's high series of the week with a 634 set.

Baldino, with a 216, achieved for the third highest game behind Basile's 235 and Guido Zinetti's 221. Both league leaders have 12-3 records, a half-game ahead of Bill Rodefied and two games up on Zinetti and Bill Bathe.

Grover won three games to widen its lead in the "A" League to eight points. Averand Construction won twice to remain in second place with 20 points, six ahead of K. C. Princeton Inn a Cnoose-Princeton Inn and Cooper and Schaffer.

Frank Sammino captured honors for high game and high series with marks of 218 and 543. Hal Frazer bowled a 210 for the league's only other game over 200.

Kase Kienners swept three games in B League competition to move ahead of Jungtown by two points. Behind by two last week, Kase now has a total of 30 points, four up on third place Campus Taxi and six up on fourth place Balesieri.

Bob Sculerati's 223 was the high game, followed closely by 212 games by Bill Parke and Harry Kahny. Other games surpassing the 200 mark were a 241 by Nick Santovasso, 209 by Wilton Rose, 208's by Parke, Dan Tawasi and Jerry Perpetus, 205 by Frank Deneso and 200 by Fred Procacone.

Lawrenceville widened its Tri-County Firemen's League lead to two games over Belle Mead. Rocky Hill picked up two victories to move into a second-place tie with Belle Mead. Both teams have 18 wins, one more than either Hook and Ladder L or Princeton No. 1.

Iggy McHugh turned in a 243 game to walk away with league honors. Elmer Wilson came the closest to the fine line performance with a 222. Behind him, Stan Tatum had a 211, Barry Davall a 210, Gib Ireland a 204, Ben Davison a 202, and Ken Luck a 201.

In Princeton Industrial League action, Para Lab picked up a victory to move into a first-place tie with the Reformers, who went winless. Both teams have 22 points, two ahead of Tiger Garage and the Crescents, the third-place teams.

Perpetus bowled a 202 and Mike Kopelman and Walt Bell each had one pin less for the only games that bettered 200. Jefferson Plumbing held a one-game lead over the English shop and Decker's Dairy in the Women's Industrial League. The leaders have 13 victories apiece.

Lena Friel, whose average is 107, bowled a 185 for the high scoring. Other good performances were turned in by Rose Zinetti, 179, Sara Rose, 167 games. Esther Robbins, 167, Lillian Burrough, 166, Margaret Drummond, 163, Dot Wheeler, 156, and Loretta Sculerati, 153.

REAL ESTATE

ASSORTED POTENTIAL BUYS:

1. Tugged individualists or fanatics finicky about privacy, take note! This contemporary house in the woods (fine area) has just been REDUCED FOR QUICK SALE TO $42,500. Fine boards & battens . . . Bagstone & white washed brick . . . railroad ties & white gravel . . . glass walls & dogwood - get the feel of it! It's fun, easily expandable and the land alone is worth a good $30,000.
2. Once overpriced because of decorating needed (wiring, piping, etc. are good), this basically lovely OLD COLONIAL has been so ENORMOUSLY REDUCED that it could almost be called underpriced. Five bdrms., 4 baths, 4 fireplaces (one in the master bdr.), old floorboards, large barn, 5 acres (more available), estate area - at $30,000 for all this what's a little decorating!
3. For people to whom space, schooling and budget are important, here is a 3 year old, 4 bdr. split in a neighboring community with excellent schooling that might be a steal. (Owner transferred, must sell, etc.) Modern kitchen, rec. rm., good condition, LARGE ASSIGNABLE G.I. MORTGAGE. Asking $25,500. Lower offer based on quick closing might take.

TWO-LINE TEASERS

North of P'ton. Small ranch. Sep. div. rm., dry basement. Lovely high land makes expansion worthwhile. $12,500.
 Hopewell home built when builders really built! Stone and masonry construction. Big liv. rm., 4 bdrms. $30,000.
 Lake area new listing. 4 bdr. home priced lower than comparable homes. Rec. rm., extra special lot. $39,500.
 New West End listing. Tower built 5 bdr., 3 1/2 bath home. Lovely pool, perfect condition, extras! $72,000.
 Early Princeton charm. West End border. Secluded, easy care grounds. Good condition. 3 or 4 bdrms. $35,000.

This was Mrs. Harold Curtis' Kitchen

... then along came Quaker Maid

"My husband and I never thought that there could be so much space in our kitchen," says Mrs. Harold Curtis of Jacobs Creek Road. Planning the new kitchen, according to the proud new owner, was a team effort. The Curtis' made the final decision on everything including door knobs and hinges. "The Quaker Maid staff suggested many practical innovations such as building corner cabinets at an angle instead of straight against the wall. They also designed an artificial brick setting which contains the oven and range," she said. One idea that has worked out well is Mrs. Curtis' suggestion that instead of having a cupboard for storing kitchen utensils four large drawers be installed beneath the oven and range.

If you're thinking about installing a new kitchen or remodeling your present kitchen visit the Quaker Maid Kitchen showroom.

Looked into one of our homes lately?

Then you probably noticed all these extra values they contain!

Homes of similar design may look the same to the casual observer but it's what goes into a home, what you get for your money, that determines the true value of a home.

That's why we invite your specific attention to some of the extra quality features that make a Village on the Green home one of the best values on the market today.

1 SPACIOUS WOOD-PANELLED FAMILY RECREATION ROOM — Every home at Village on the Green offers this functional and beautiful extra. In the ranch model, you get the extra value of having the family room in the living area.

2 FULL DOUBLE OAK FLOORING THROUGHOUT — No skimpy single-thickness floors at Village on the Green. Every home contains tongue-and-groove oak flooring.

3 INTERIOR PAINTING — The price of every home at Village on the Green includes interior painting. There are no hidden extras once you've purchased your home.

4 SQUARE FOOTAGE — Check the number of square feet of living space in every home at Village on the Green. You'll find that, dollar for dollar, you're getting more room for your money.

5 DOUBLE COURSE CEDAR SHINGLES — No inexpensive asbestos shingles are ever used on the homes at Village on the Green. Only top-grade cedar shingles, installed double course, on all four sides!

6 DREAM KITCHEN — Every kitchen at Village on the Green is a homemaker's dream. Planned to save needless steps, it is complemented by such famous appliances as Magic Chef oven and range, Kenline floors, Formica counter tops and cabinets, and RCA dishwasher. Only a few of the dozens of top-quality name brands you'll find in every Village on the Green home.

These and the features listed in the next column tell you how much value you're getting at Village on the Green. If you are among the thousands who have already visited Village on the Green, you already know. If you haven't seen these outstanding homes yet, plan your visit soon. Why not this weekend!
